Our Philosophy and Approach

The products offered by Get Well Natural, LLC are based on over forty years of anecdotal research, clinical practice, and wisdom from many traditional and non-traditional therapeutic approaches. It is the combination of extensive knowledge and experience of master herbalists and medical doctors from Vietnam and Russia who are well versed in treatment, personal anecdotal research, nutritional science and molecular medical investigation.* . Our goal is to offer exclusive products based on their unique philosophy, experience and understanding of how to support the body's own healing potential.*

Despite ongoing efforts and millions of dollars, they believe that conventional medicine has made very limited progress in the understanding and treatment of common chronic diseases. People suffering with chronic debilitating diseases may experience a significant decline in quality of life due to treatment drugs' side effects while creating financial stress due to high costs and lost time at work. The major weakness of modern medicine can be attributed to the highly technocratic and primarily symptomatic approach of medical scientists and doctors. Diseases are viewed separately from patients' lives, environments, cultures, diets and lifestyles, focusing heavily on isolating genes, cells, receptors, and molecules. It is not our intent to criticize the weaknesses of conventional medicine, rather to provide you with an alternative point of view.*

The developers of Get Well Natural's formulas believed that the most severe diseases, such as cancer and autoimmune disease, are often the symptoms themselves. In other words, changes in the body's biochemistry, blood, immune cells, and even gene mutations are actually an expression of the body's adaptive response--a compensatory reaction in order to compensate for imbalances, intoxication, malnutrition, hypoxia, electrical imbalance, hyperexcitability and cellular or tissue deficiencies. This type of adaptive phenomena may explain, for example, why hormonal replacement therapy for aging women has, in many cases been disease-causing, rather than disease-preventing.*

Their experience demonstrates a different approach that allows the body to heal itself instead of hoping refined chemical drug treatments will be a solution to disease processes. They believe that the key factor to any successful health program depends on the accurate identification of the root cause, the disease pathway, and connections between the disease and an individual's life. Each case also requires an understanding of the health supporting properties of natural substances.*

In their collective anecdotal research and personal practice, they have used a variety of sources to help formulate a new explanation of the relationship between the human body and disease. These include clinical intuition, naturopathic and allopathic literature and small scale clinical trials. This knowledge gained allowed for a process that identified the best ingredients, combinations, their preparation and administration, course of usage, as well as lifestyle recommendations, including supportive advice on emotional and diet modification. The formulation process of Get Well Natural's exclusive herbal formulas were created using a dynamic process--they adjusted, changed, selected, tested, and evaluated all feedback in order to figure out the optimal regimen and combination for each herbal formula.*

Millions of individuals worldwide have used both individual herbs as well as herbal combinations to achieve a better quality of life. By utilizing the wealth of knowledge from an integration of both Eastern and Western Medicine, our formulating Doctors and Herbalists have perfected and time tested our exclusive herbal formulas.*

All Get Well Products were developed based on the theory that natural substances may be used by the body to support healthy functions, regain balance and promote improved health.*

Many of Get Well Natural's ingredients are based on Traditional Chinese and Vietnamese Medicine combined with Western Medicine influences. Additionally, in some of the products, the leading or principle ingredients are also based on European, Polynesian, North and South American or Indian philosophies.*

We believe that the answers are there, but the questions need to be asked.

God (Nature) would not give mankind any disease without the cure for it."

Why Get Well Natural LLC's products?

Highest quality: we use only the finest quality ingredients in the design and formulation of our products. All of our formulas were originally designed by medical doctors and master herbalists for their patients, thus making sure these formulas met high standards.*

Higher concentrations: allow our products to have higher levels of active ingredients while dramatically reducing the necessity of taking large numbers of tablets, teas or capsules on a daily basis.*

Specific ingredients: during the selection process of each herbal ingredient, only select parts of different herbs were chosen making each design very specific. Other companies will use the whole herb, leaf, stem, flower, bud, and/or seed in their formulations. Since each part of the herb has a different active ingredient, it is crucial to only use the part that achieves the desired effect. This exclusive selection process combined with personal practice application sets these proprietary formulas apart from all other companies.*

Coatings: tablets are protected with a natural, water soluble rice starch coating that dissolves readily upon ingestion. For capsules, we use only kosher-certified vegetarian capsules.*

Hypoallergenic: our products are free from common allergens, food colorings, preservatives, binders, and fillers including gluten, corn and dairy.*

Testing: Stability and purity of our product line is the company's highest priority to ensure consistency and efficacy for our customers, as well as ourselves. We achieve this high level of quality control by testing for heavy metals, pesticides, bacteria, mold and other harmful substances.*

Effectiveness: In order to achieve the highest level of effectiveness, we combine scientific knowledge of Western medical physiology and pathology with a holistic understanding of oriental herbology. The doctors and herbalists that created these herbal formulations spent years of anecdotal research and personal practice implementation to fully understand what specific nutrients were required by the body to achieve this optimum level of health.*

Testimonial from Keli D., NY

Ever since I was a child, I have had allergies. I used to get allergy shots every 2-4 weeks and took numerous types of allergy medicines. This year my hay fever was much worse than in the past. In fact, there had been days when I was not able to stay outside because I was sneezing continuously, and my eyes were swollen. I have tried 3 different prescription allergy medicines and none of them have relieved all my symptoms.*

I finally decided to try Get Well's Aller Well since I really liked the philosophy of the doctors that developed this product. Their idea to use herbs to support an allergy-free body instead of treating symptoms of allergies is a great idea. I really appreciate this herbal dietary supplement and have used it all season to support my health.*

Testimonial from Will Swanson, AZ

My name is Will. I am 67 years old. I live in Phoenix Arizona. I was getting up every 10 or 15 minutes at night to urinate; when I did get up to urinate I would usually just get a few drops, instead of a stream of urine. Even though I have no cancer after a biopsy test, my PSA test was still high at 21. The doctor said I just had a swollen prostate.*

The only thing they suggested was that I could have surgery that would cut and remove some of the prostate, and I decided against that. I decided to look for something natural that could be taken daily to support my prostate function.*

I was recommended to call Get Well and ask them about their Healthy Prostate & Ovary herbal formula to support healthy prostate function. I have now used this natural dietary supplement for about four months. It is so nice to know that there are great products like this available and I will continue taking this supplement for years to come.*

Zeolites are a group of volcanic minerals that support a powerful, natural chelating process when taken orally, by allowing the release of harmful toxins and heavy metals from the body. Formed eons ago by the interaction of volcanic lava with ocean waters, zeolites have a unique molecular structure resembling a honeycomb or "cage"-like design.

These lattices of the zeolite cages hold a natural negative charge which attract and irreversibly bind positively-charged toxins and heavy metals on a cellular level in the body. The zeolite, with the bound toxins and heavy metals, is then safely excreted from the body. Omica Organics' Super-Z-Lite™ Liquid distinguishes itself from other liquid zeolite products in several very significant ways: Particle Size, Concentration/Volume, Purity, Source, Formulation and Production Quality.

Suggested usage: Take 10-55 Drops per day.

Super Z-Lite Ingredients: Blend of Micronized Concentrated Zeolite Liquid, Aloe Vera Juice, Ocean-Derived Ionic Trace Minerals, and Fulvic Acid.
